At ICELIS Global, we believe ESG is not a trend; it is the architecture of tomorrow's economy. Whether you're a startup or a listed company, ESG is your gateway to capital, compliance, and credibility. As a Harvard-trained legal practitioner and a proud contributor to GCC sustainability transitions, I founded ICELIS to bridge the gap between ambition and action.

Legal, Policy, and Regulatory Advisory

Shaping Compliance. Enabling Growth. Securing Advantage.

Why This Matters Now

Regulation and capital are moving together. Investors expect clear rules, strong governance, and reliable disclosure. Governments across the region and beyond are tightening sustainability requirements.

Organizations that align policy with ESG standards gain faster access to funding, stronger credibility, and smoother execution. Those who wait face fragmented compliance, higher risk, and loss of stakeholder confidence.

What We Do

We turn complex regulatory demands into clear action. Our team blends law, finance, and ESG to design policies that work in real operations. We help you set the rules, build the systems, and prove results to investors and regulators. The outcome is better decisions, lower risk, and visible performance.

Our Legal and Regulatory Services

- ✓ Development of Strategies and Policies Aligned with ESG Frameworks
We design ESG policies that fit your business model and market context. We align them with GCC rules and leading global frameworks. We map risks and opportunities so leadership can move with clarity.
- ✓ Comparative Analysis of Global Sustainability Laws and Disclosure Standards
Benchmark company practices and policies against international sustainability laws to stay globally competitive and provide guidelines to align with the applicable standards.
- ✓ Climate Policy Design and Energy Transition Regulation
We craft climate policies and roadmaps that support the shift to clean energy. We guide approvals for renewable projects and integrate climate risk into governance. Your plans align with international goals and local rules.
- ✓ Environmental Taxation, Carbon Pricing, and Market Mechanisms Advisory
We prepare you for carbon taxes, pricing systems, and trading markets. We model cost exposure and design smart compliance strategies. You reduce penalties and unlock savings through market participation.
- ✓ Legal Advisory for Responsible Business and Sustainability Enforcement
We provide legal advisory that strengthens compliance and protects reputation. We build supply chain governance, assess corporate liability, and prepare for disputes. Your organization stays resilient under scrutiny.
- ✓ ESG Policy Guidance for Trade, Finance, Procurement, and Public-Sector Reform
We help governments and institutions embed ESG into trade, finance, and procurement. We design sustainable procurement models and run impact assessments. The result is trust, efficiency, and better outcomes for citizens and markets.

Certification Advisory

Certifying Systems. Elevating Standards. Unlocking Market Access.

Why Certification Matters Now

Sustainability certification has become a decisive factor in project approval, funding, and market acceptance. Governments, investors, and customers expect buildings, products, and operations to meet recognized global and regional benchmarks.

Certification strengthens reputation, secures compliance, and unlocks access to finance and new markets. Without it, projects risk delay, penalties, and loss of trust.

What We Do

At ICELIS Global, we guide clients through complex certification processes with clarity and precision. We simplify technical requirements, integrate sustainability into design and operations, and ensure that every certification strengthens competitiveness.

Our role is to help you achieve recognition that builds market value and investor confidence.

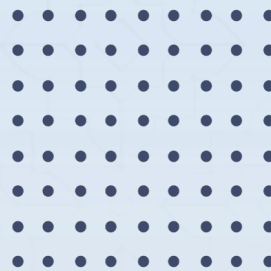

Our Legal and Regulatory Services

- GSAS Certification: We support developers and corporates in achieving GSAS certification, the leading system in the GCC. Our advisory covers readiness assessment, design integration, compliance documentation, and post-certification optimization to secure both regulatory approval and market reputation.
- EPDs and HPDs: We prepare Environmental Product Declarations and Health Product Declarations that showcase verified environmental and health impacts. These certifications enhance product transparency, strengthen supply chain credibility, and open opportunities in construction and procurement markets.
- REACH Compliance: We help exporters, manufacturers, and distributors align with EU chemical safety regulations. From registration and dossier preparation to supply chain monitoring, we ensure full compliance that protects market access and investor trust.
- LEED and BREEAM Certification: We provide end-to-end advisory for LEED and BREEAM, the world's most recognized building certifications. Our services include design strategies, documentation, compliance coordination, and integration of credits into ESG reporting.
